

Implementing Spring security with Authentication project

Added spring a spring authentication provider to my react/Spring boot login project.

This project uses Spring security configuration and the Authentication provider interface to handle user authentication in my full stack application.

To run start TodoApplication.java and run react start to navigate to login/registration. If you want to bypass you can use postman to Post directly to localhost:8080/api/login or registration with the correct parameters.